ACADEMIC ENGLISH DEVELOPMENT FOR UBC DEGREE PROGRAMS

If you meet the general admission and program-specific requirements for a UBC degree program but you do not meet UBC's English Language Admission Standard, you should still apply to a UBC degree program. You may be eligible for admission through UBC's Conditional Admission Program or UBC's Vantage College. For more information, visit you.ubc.ca/academic-english.

For current UBC degree students

ACADEMIC ENGLISH SUPPORT

Academic English Support (AES) is a resource available to UBC students during their degree (undergraduate and graduate) programs. AES offers free, individual support to enhance your academic English and give you the skills to succeed in your program. You will have access to online and face-to-face courses as well as an English language teaching specialist, your language coach. With the help of your language coach, you prepare an AES learning plan tailored to your needs and to your schedule. Your coach will check in with you throughout the year, in person and online, as you work through your AES learning plan. For more information, visit aes.ubc.ca.
